OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

NEVADA, Cal., July 27.—R. H. Farquhar, County Clerk, and Union candidate for Clerk of the Supreme Court, was killed this morning in the Court House, by an explosion of gas. He and his brother, George Farquhar, opened the Clerk's office at about nine o'clock, and Geo. Farquhar remarked to his brother that he must have left the gas turned on in the vault, as he smelled it very strong. They then opened the vault door and went inside, and George picked up a match and lighted it, when a tremendous explosion occurred, blowing out the windows of the Clerk's office and cracking the Court House walls. R. H. Farquhar was terribly burned, and lived but a few minutes. George Farquhar was knocked senseless and his face and hands severely burned, but his injuries are not considered dangerous. The clock in the Clerk's office was stopped at eleven minutes to nine, indicating the exact time of the explosion. The whole community is completely shocked by the occurrence. The deceased leaves a wife and two children.

SACRAMENTO, July 27.—Grove L. Johnson was arrested yesterday on complaint of County Clerk Shilland for making fraudulent registration of returns. It is reported that prominent citizens who were in consultation last Saturday and Sunday, will be placed on this stand, when interesting developments may be made, as they are persons of veracity.

J. McCallum publishes a card in this morning's Union publicly declining the nomination of the 30th July Convention for Secretary of State, and proposes to cancel a portion of the State for the June ticket, when he will give the reasons for the faith that is in him. He declines any haranguing entertained or expressed that intention of being an independent candidate or candidate of a third party, for any office.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—The Twelfth District Court was engaged to-day on the trial of the case of Mrs. Fontaine vs. Carl Johns. The plaintiff claims damages in the sum of $7,000 and alleges that she fell in front of defendant's residence by reason of a defect in the side walk and fractured one of her legs, and says the defendant is responsible for neglect to repair the walk. The case is being tried before a jury.

The schooner Sarah became water-logged about fifteen miles south of Santa Cruz. The crew worked at the pumps 48 hours, but this morning she was struck by a sudden squall and capsized. Two men, Jeremiah Lusk and Scott, were knocked overboard by the boom and drowned. Capt. W. Swan and the remainder of his crew went ashore in a small boat. Efforts will be made to tow the vessel into Santa Cruz.

Seventeen persons passengers on the British ship Burlington Coward, commander from the port of Sydney, New South Wales, have libeled that ship in the United States District Court, for a violation of the passenger contract, in the matter of furnishing proper and sufficient food and water on the voyage from that port to this. The plaintiffs also allege that the master of the vessel allowed thirteen kangaroo dogs to wander at pleasure over the vessel to the discomfort of the passengers, and threatened on several occasions, to sink the ship, and did in fact, on one occasion, run the vessel on the point of a group of Kingsville Island; that he was often too drunk to command the ship, and used in the presence of the passengers, male and female, the most immoral and disgusting language, wherefore, they claim $15 000 damages against the vessel. Another passenger libels for the same reasons, and claims $10,000 damages. John Conrad the master, intervenes in behalf of the owners, John Lerhott & Sons, of London, and prays that the court will decree a restitution.

Yesterday an accident occurred at the Pioneer Mills, Black Point, by which Hugh McCormick and Patrick Halloran were seriously injured. They were engaged in lifting some heavy pieces of manufactory, when the elevating apparatus broke and the machinery was precipitated upon them. MONDAY MORNING, JULY 29, 1867.

Consistency.

The "inconsistency of the Radical party" is one of the most common themes of discourse with those who are laboring to bring about a reaction, against the events of the last few years. To these persons the course which has been pursued by those who have controlled the destinies of the nation during this period, is the source of continual trouble. Almost every accusation which is made against the party that is trying to make secure the legitimate results of the late struggle, begins with a charge about the alleged inconsistency of its present course with its past declarations. Resolutions adopted by Congress in 1861, the sayings of party leaders at that critical juncture, and the doctrines laid down by party caucuses under stress of the peculiar circumstances of that time, are referred to as containing declarations that should never be changed or modified, no matter what new condition of things should arise, or what new light should be received from subsequent events. Complaint is made that promises which were contingent upon the abandonment of the struggle by the South, and which were designed to effect such abandonment, have not been fulfilled,—and this though the South spurned them when offered, and has since been compelled by sheer force to do what it refused to do when the offers were made. It is reckoned a capital sin that the victorious party, after being compelled to fight the battle through, will not be satisfied with the same terms which it offered before the struggle was ended and which were offered as an inducement to conclude it. Nothing could surpass this absurdity. For a person in adversity to claim the benefit of a proposition for a settlement which he defiantly spurned when he supposed himself strong enough to maintain his own pretensions by force, is rather a singular piece of presumption.

The victorious party, however, does not profess to stand precisely where it stood in 1861. During the years that have elapsed since then many changes have occurred. A great storm like that which has passed over the country since 1861, never leaves things as it found them. The Union-Republican party, like all living, constructive parties, has taken new positions and advocated new measures. It does not deny it, but glories in the fact. It has advanced from one position to another according to its wisdom and in obedience to the necessities of the times. It does not claim to occupy the same position it held five years ago. Even the Democratic party is continually talking about questions which were presented before and during the war as "old issues," thus acknowledging that a new order of things now prevails.

If the "dominant party"—using a common phrase—is to be held to its old positions, it is fair to insist that the Democratic party shall stand on theirs also. Let them therefore declare as they did six years ago, that there is no coercive power in the Constitution to hold the Union together, and proclaim anew their other abandoned dogmas of that period. They may then accuse their opponents of inconsistency and demand that they shall stand now where they did then.

But this they do not propose to try. Their doctrine now is that no State can by any possibility get out of the Union, whether one means or another be resorted to for accomplishing that object. To this point have they advanced since 1860, when they held with Buchanan and Black to the doctrines of secession. They now hold that the "General Government is the paramount Government of the country," and their Convention in California a few weeks ago, passed a resolution framed in these very words. To this position have they advanced since 1865, prior to which time they were continually "renewing their faith in the resolutions of 1798," and declaring the States sovereign. Since this is their record, they have a very little room to talk about the inconsistency of their opponents. It would be trouble enough for them to establish their own consistency with at concerning themselves about the course of others.

ANOTHER "POLITICAL."—The following dispatch was sent to settle the question as to Bidwell's candidacy. Some of the California papers, however, insist that the dispatch from Bidwell does not amount to a declination, though it is not easy to see how they can place any other construction upon it:

General John Bidwell, Chico: The bolting Convention, with only a few counties represented—not more than fifty delegates present—have agreed in caucus to nominate you for Governor.

As your friend, I notify you of the fact that you may telegraph to-morrow morning, refusing to accept, and thus place yourself right before the Union party. GEO. S. EVANS.

July 17th, 6 o'clock A. M.

[Received at Sacramento July 17, '67, 12:05 P. M.]

General George S. Evans: Your dispatch received. Having been in the field once, I cannot consent to be a candidate again.

J. BIDWELL.

Indian depredations still continue in the vicinity of Owyhee. A few days ago a large number of fat cattle belonging to Cattelow and M'Mahon, were driven off by the marauders. The Avalanche of the 20th, says an expedition was organizing at Silver City to go on the war path against any and all Indians in that region.

A party of men, says the Mountaineer, left the Dalles last week for the Weenatchee mines. They went prepared to work till winter sets in. There is no longer a doubt but mines have been found there, that will pay from four to six dollars a day to each man.

Ripe watermelons and apples have made their appearance in the market at the Dalles.

Whose Fault is It?

CANYON CITY, GRANT COUNTY, July 13th, 1867.

This question is asked by "Enquirer" in the Oregon Herald of July 6th, 1867, in regard to the Postoffice at Canyon City, Grant county. For his information, the Postmaster of Canyon City would state:

First, That he at the end of every quarter has forwarded an order for postage stamps sufficient—in his own estimation at the time—for the use of his office. The increased demand for stamps by the Military Post at Camp Logan, which was only felt last quarter, has been one of the causes that the stamps were consumed before the new supply arrived.

Second, That the Postmaster has frequently, in order to accommodate the "Enquirer," bought stamps of the Postmaster at the Dalles, and further, that for only two mails this office was or has been at any time, without postage stamps. Such are the facts.

Letters cannot be sent to any part of the United States without being pre paid by postage stamps. But, Mr. "Enquirer" seems to have "one eye on small tricks" and therefore endeavors to lay one on the Postmaster. The charge of pressing Express envelops upon the people and in that way to work for the Express company, I leave to be judged by the people of Grant county. P. M.

A POPULAR GENERAL.—During the speech of the Union candidate for Governor, in this city the other night, the speaker had occasion to mention the name of General Sheridan; though his introduction of that name was purely incidental. The applause which followed it was long and loud, breaking out as soon as over, compelling the speaker to pause for several minutes. Sheridan may have been hasty and impetuous in his action; he may have been insubordinate in his letter to his superior officer; but he is true to the cause of justice and liberty. He has shown that he has pluck and decision—two qualities especially honored in this country. And the thunders of applause which greeted his name showed that the rebel-tamer of Louisiana is as popular in San Francisco as ever was the hero of Winchester.—Alta.

The General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Believing that you would not willingly misrepresent or do injustice to a religious denomination, permit me to correct an item in your issue of last week relative to the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Seldom have I seen so many errors in an item of less than a dozen lines. First, there is no Southern General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. They have never divided.

Second, the late General Assembly did not meet in Kentucky—it met in Memphis, Tennessee.

These, however, are innocent mistakes, that I care not to notice. But the charge that "in 1860 and 1861 it threw the whole weight of its influence in favor of secession and rebellion," is false and slanderous.

Now for the facts in the case: Like all other denominations, a majority of our members in the rebel States took sides with the rebellion, and during the war, was not represented in the General Assembly. The Assemblies of 1863, '64 and '65 were composed of members from the loyal States, and they passed very strong resolutions condemning both slavery and rebellion. In 1860, however, the Assembly met in Owensborough, Kentucky, when and where, the Southern Presbyterians came up with a full representation, and they succeeded in passing a resolution, about such as you quote. The Southern sympathizers then boasted that they had at least neutralized the former loyal deliverances. Whereupon the loyal part of the Church demanded of the last General Assembly to say explicitly, whether or not she claimed that those loyal deliverances of 1861-5 were repealed. Her reply was as follows:

"WHEREAS, There exists some doubt about the bearing of the last General Assembly's utterances on those of former Assemblies on the subject of slavery and rebellion, therefore,

"Resolved, That while the decisions of the General Assembly are high authority, they cannot become a law binding on all the Church membership, without they are referred to the Presbyteries and there approved. Hence such decisions of the Assembly are not subjects of repeal, and the decisions of the last General Assembly did not repeal the decisions of former Assemblies on the subject above named; nor did they acknowledge their authority, but simply disclaimed all jurisdiction over such questions."

Please give the above a place in your much esteemed journal and oblige many loyal members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Oregon, and the subscriber in particular.

NEILL JOHNSON.

McMinnville, July 24, 1867.

[We have only to say that the item of which our respected friend complains was condensed from an article that appeared a short time ago in the N. Y. Daily Tribune. We would not knowingly do injustice to any sect or denomination. Knowing, however, that the greatest strength of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church was in the South, and knowing also, that most of its members there "took sides with the rebellion," we were less careful about the statements we made in our former item than we would otherwise have been. It appears that this denomination did not, in its organized capacity, throw its influences in favor of the rebellion, but that the Southern membership, acting as individuals, did so. We cheerfully make the correction.—ED. OREGONIAN.]

Some of the London journals are troubling themselves about the ability of the United States to pay its indebtedness. The same papers were very positive that we should never be able to suppress the rebellion. The people of one half the country successfully accomplished the one; and the entire re-united nation will have no little difficulty about the other.—Chicago Republican.

A lake larger than Superior is said to exist in British Columbia, north of Lake Superior. It has, as the story goes, been concealed by the Hudson Bay Company, but it is probable that the new Government of Canada will have that region thoroughly explored. The lake is named Neepigon, and abounds with fish, and its borders with game and fur animals.

The people of Albany have been excited by reports of gold discoveries The Democrat tells the story in this wise: For several weeks past casual rumors have been afloat in this vicinity, of the existence of rich "diggings" near Henly's Ranch, Soda Springs, at the foot of the Cascade range; but nothing definite was known until last Monday, when the matter was "brought to a head" by five or six persons riding furiously into town, displaying their rich specimens and proceeding to register their claims Then, all was excitement, hurry and bustle Shops were closed, business houses were closed—even public offices were closed—and the lucumbents thereof stuffed their pockets with crackers, sardines, and something in a bottle (syrup, perhaps,) bade their families and friends an affectionate "adieu," mounted their prancing and impatient—canvases, and were off for the new Eldorado We will now only attempt to follow in the wake of one of them Although of rather large "calibre" for the "cayuse" he bestrode, he rode with lightning speed along the road until he came to the foot of the mountains, when, lo! he met man returning. He halted them, conversed awhile, and—onward the close of the setting sun on the following day, a solitary horseman might have been seen wending his way along the back street and up a dirty alley, until he drew rein in front of "the sun cottage home" He was minus gold and minus crackers and sardines, and minus contents of syrup bottle. The reader can draw his own conclusions as to the probable "richness" of the new discoveries.

THE ALTA ON THE SORREHEADS.—The Alta condemns and ridicules the Sorehead State Convention, and says:

Gen. Bidwell was lately a candidate before the Union State Convention; so were many other men who did not secure nominations. He and they have, in some sense, a right to be independent candidates, but they must accept the position with all the odium which will forever attach itself to the act. No man can honorably enter into a contest which promises nothing but defeat to the organization whose best interests he professes to have at heart; and we much mistake the character of Gen. Bidwell if he shall prove to be so weak as to accept the empty honors of the Republican nomination as a salve to wounded vanity. It is now a plain question for Union men to decide whether it were not better to bear the ills they have, imaginary or otherwise, than incur the numberless mischiefs and disasters which will be sure to follow the overthrow of the Union party. Let no man for a moment indulge in the flattering delusion that his temporary support of the new Republican movement will result in bringing about any compromise or censure of candidates. That precedent can never be established, and the proposition to make it is impertinent and mischievous.

EXCURSION TO YAQUINA.—A party consisting of Messrs E F Albright, E. T Reese and A H White, left this city on the 16th, for a trip to Yaquina Bay, and returned home Saturday evening. Their report of the trip is sufficiently full of pleasant incident to induce the stay-at-homes with a desire to follow their example. The road across the mountains, they represent, is a first-rate one—better in most respects than the stage road between here and Salem. They went by stage from Corvallis, forty-seven miles, to Yaquina City, where they took small boat, thirty miles, to Newport, at the mouth of the bay. Newport has a good hotel, kept by Messrs. Baldwin & Case, who supply their table quite as well as the average of hotel tables in the Willamette valley. The amusements of excursionists consist mostly of sailing and fishing, though the mountains are said to be full of game. Capt. Kellogg is still running his little steamer, the Fancier, but Ed. says "she has to steam up like thunder, to keep up with the tide." People who are in no hurry frequently take passage on her in preference to rowing down in a small boat. Our excursionists speak of Yaquina as "a splendid place for a week's recreation."

COUNTY CITY ITEMS.—The "exhibit of the financial condition of Clackamas county for the fiscal year ending July 30, 1867," is published in the Enterprise of Saturday. From it we learn that the amount of State taxes, collected and paid into the state Treasury, was $9,804 44. School Fund at the close of the year, $6,034 32. County Fund, $14,238 82. Expenditures for the year, $21,243 71. Liabilities, $3,611 18. Assets, $17,625 27. Total received from all sources, $32,157 39. Total indebtedness of the county, $7,076 91. We copy from the Enterprise, the following: Business will soon be resumed in all its branches in Oregon City. The Imperial Mills, which have received substantial improvements, will begin running next week. The woolen factory next month. The P. T. Co. have taken the Echo out of the dry dock, tooling as neat and trim as a new craft, and on Monday she is expected to "start up" as far as Carvallis. The paper mill will for all probability resume active operations inside of a month. Good crops are being well harvested in the country—business is looking more brisk east, west and south.....Posters announce that Mr. John Athey will give a public ball at the Court House, Tuesday evening next. A pleasant time is expected.

MEN ONE HAND WASH THE OTHER.—The Vancouver Register complains because an insane man, John Mitchell, (not T. W. Hays,) has been placed in the Asylum at Monticello. Mitchell recently went to Yakima county, W. T., from Oregon, and the Register complains that he is a bona fide resident of Oregon. On this point we have no information. From another column of the Register we learn that the Sheriff of Clark county has assessed and collected several hundred dollars taxes on "cattle and other stock shipped over from Oregon during the high water season." These cattle were taken from the bottom lands of the Columbia, across the river to Clarke county for temporary refuge from inundation. Now, we will tell you what to do, Bro. Register. Just take those "several hundred dollars," collected unjustly from Oregon ranchmen, and apply them to the keeping of the Oregon insane man at Monticello. That will make exactly a stand-off.

FROM CANYON CITY.—The Mountaineer of last Saturday says; Mr. F. M. Dodge, the popular driver of C. M. Lockwood & Co.'s Canyon City stage, on yesterday afternoon presented us with a beautiful specimen of quartz that was taken from the newly discovered ledge near Canyon City. He assures us there is no humbug in relation to the discovery of the lode as stated by our correspondent in to-day's paper, from that locality. ....From parties who lately came over the new road by way of Canyon City, we learn that this route is in excellent condition. Our informants have traveled the Umatilla road to and fro frequently, pronounce our new road far superior for teams and pack trains. At a time when the entire length of the road was infested by a set of loitering loafers, it was thought inadvisable to induce packers and teamsters to travel it, but now, as there are hundreds of soldiers stationed along the line, no fear of an attack need be apprehended.

THE RACES ON SATURDAY.—A spectator of the races at the Riverside track on Saturday afternoon, says there was any amount of fun and lots of betting. The first race run was between Gurley's stage and Bull of the Woods, half a mile, for $50 a side, won by the former by only a head and neck. The second race was Tom Smith's spotted horse against Charly Stewart's sorrel horse; $50 a side, won by Smith's horse....The third race was between the two first mentioned nags for $50 a side, result as before. After that was over, a scrub race was got up between a large bay horse belonging to Mr. Ish and Charley Stewart's sorrel horse, for $30 a side; won by the former. Both horses were put through under the whip from the word go, and got around inside of three minutes!

BAR.—A Salem paper relates with much circumstance, the proceedings of a Siwash wedding party—how the bucks and squaws had good clothes on, how they marched in stately dignity through the streets, and how, under certain circumstances, they might have "passed muster in polite circles." The second concludes: "The crowd was vastly bordering on the burlesque, though each philosopher was on his dignity, maintaining a sullen gravity that impressed the beholder with the idea that Mr. Indian was low-lived in earnest, and Mrs. Indian no less so." We submit that, just at that auspicious moment, when "everything was lovely," it was inexpressibly sad that Mr. Indian should go dead, in earnest, and "Mrs. Indian no less so."

BASE BALL MATTERS.—An exchange of items has been going on for some weeks, between the Enterprise and the Corvallis Gazette, in relation to the National American game of base ball and the Native Siwash game of "Cohee." The Enterprise, for the American clubs wanted to know of the Gazette if there was any resemblance between the two games; whereupon the Cohee organ replied that there is—a strikiug resemblance. In relation to the American game, an interesting question has lately arisen, suggested by the late prosecution for penalties in the U.S. District Court. The question is whether the clubs playing such games are not liable to penalties for not having stamped.

CIRCUIT COURT—SHATTUCK, JUDGE.—The proceedings in the Circuit Court on Saturday were as follows:

John A. Carr vs. John Monroe; verdict of jury for plaintiff for $4,371 60.

Jane E. Pickett vs. Charles A. Pickett; suit for divorce; divorce granted and plaintiff awarded the custody of the minor child of plaintiff and defendant.

Marshall B. Millard vs. heirs of D. H. Lownsdale; decree granting title to lots 1 and 2 in block 61, in the city of Portland.

POSTPONED.—Owing to the absence of Bishop Thompson who is still at Salem, the laying of the corner stone of the M. E. Church, in this city, has been postponed. No day is fixed upon. The work of rearing the basement walls, is to go ahead rapidly, however, and the laying of the corner stone will take place at an early day.

After the above was in type, it was announced in the M. E. Church last evening that the corner stone will be laid on Thursday, the 1st proximo at 2 o'clock P. M.

CHILD DROWNED.—About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a little boy of Mr. Wm. Shaffer, who lives in the first house this side of the Fulton House, fell accidentally into an open well in the garden, and was drowned. The child was about three years old. He was playing in the garden, and falling in the reservoir, was not discovered till life was extinct.

DISMISSED CONSTABLES.—During the commencement week at the Wallamet University, degrees were conferred rather promiscuously. Among others the degree of M. D. was conferred on Dr. H. Y. V. Johnson; Hons. George H. Williams, M. P. Deady and A. G. Gibbs were made L. L. Ds'.

TRANSFER FOR VICTORIA.—The steamer Fidelity sailed at midnight A. M yesterday, for Victoria, with the following freights: 3,480 sks flour, 7 boxes ammunition, 24 pkgs fruit, 2 cases lard, 100 sks middlings, 1 sk buns, 1130 sks bran, 19 sks oats, 32 pkgs mdse, 4 tons wheat, and a number of boxes fruit.

COMING OUT.—Mr. Sinnott, of the New Columbian hotel, has to keep up with the times, has purchased an Omnibus, to carry passengers to and from the house. He had it out yesterday for the first time, and took a gay party of pleasure seekers to the White House and back.

MATCH GAME.—A match game was played on Saturday between the juvenile clubs, Young Pioneers and Clear-Aways. The score at the end of the ninth innings stood: Young Pioneers, 55; Clear-Aways, 43. The second game in the match will be played in a few days.

EXCURSION.—Several of the leading stockholders in the O. S. N Co. went up the Columbia the other day on business connected with their steamboat business on the upper Columbia.

JOHN DOE.—This ubiquitous individual was picked up, yesterday, on the street, drunk and disorderly, and will be up this morning for trial in the Recorder's court.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—Arrived per steamer Senator, Saturday, July 27th: 57 bales wool, 70 doors, 18 boxes fruit, 6 bales mdse, 100 sks oats, 100 sks feed.

DONATION.—Bishop Thompson is announced to rendered the services at the dedication of the East Portland M. E. Church, next Sunday.

TRANSFERS IN PRIVATE HANDS.—The Mountaineer of Saturday, says over $100,000 was brought down by private hands on Monday last.

TREASURE.—Wells, Fargo & Co. received by the Cascade, Saturday evening, $28,000 in treasure, from the upper country.

LOST NOTE.—See advertisement of a promissory note lost, for which an owner is wanted.

NORTH AMERICA.—The United States paid at the rate of 2 cents an acre for Russian America. Berman Bros. & Co. have got just as good bargains in clothing.

THE TAILOR are in a glow of delight over the Family Dye Colors from the celebrated manufactory of Howe & Co. They say the colors surpass anything at the dye-houses, and are very much cheaper. Sold by Smith & Davis.

PERPETUAL EXPATRIATING.—Such were our feelings as we stepped into the Music and Art Gallery of W. T. Newman, on First street, a few days since, and listened to the beautiful tones and harmony which came from one of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs. From the soft breathing flute tones to the thundering bass of the pipe organ, all was equally free and sweet. And why is it other makers cannot produce instruments like these? Mason & Hamlin were the first to introduce the Cabinet Organ, and have gained such world-wide notoriety that it requires the work of two large factories to supply the demand for these valuable instruments.

CANYON CITY NEWS.

[From the Mountaineer.]

Mr. Boyd, a Government guide, arrived from Camp Wright on the evening of the 22d instant, bringing Government express and news from that Camp to the 21st, having made the trip in two days.

Col. Baker left Camp Wright on the 16th. Up to that time he had killed three Indians and captured thirteen prisoners. The command was all well.

Lieut. Goodale's command captured four prisoners at the head of Duck Creek on their way to Camp Wright, where they are now awaiting further orders.

Captain M'Kay's command passed within twenty miles of Camp Wright. Four of his scouts were at Camp Wright. They say they have reliable information that the Indian killed by Messrs. Moppin and Clark, some time ago, was no less a personage than Paulina, the great Indian Chief.

Lieut. Goodale, with seventeen of his men intercepted Capt. M'Kay near the fishery on the Malheur, and with their united commands had a fight with Wowawowa, killing five Snakes and capturing two prisoners. They also learned through an Indian interpreter from Wowawowa's daughter, the same story in regard to Paulina's death.

Capt. M'Kay lost one man in the action. Lt. Goodale left M'Kay within three days travel from Camp C. F. Smith.

Nothing has been heard from Gen. Crook.

While the stage was stopping at Moppin's on Thursday, Mr. Neil McNulty, one of the passengers, accidentally shot himself through the arm. He came on to town, and is now in Dr. Brooks' charge.

The Mountaineer publishes the following letter from Canyon City, under date of the 22d:

"Our town has been thrown into an unusual excitement this morning by the announcement of a rich strike in quartz. The discoverer was an old sailor and a green miner, was on a spree last Saturday night and concluded on Sunday morning to "go out prospecting," and in the course of the day, brought in some five or six pounds of rock which would certainly pay an ounce per pound, the gold being visible to the naked eye. He refused to reveal the locality to-day, but in all probability it will be known to-morrow. When inquired of as to the width of the ledge, he remarked that it was between three and four feet wide. The rock is fabulously rich, some of the smallest pieces being one-half gold. Who knows but that Canyon City may yet turn out quartz mines which will rival the richest lodes of California and Nevada. All we want is energetic prospecting and capital, to make this one of the richest mining districts on the Coast."

A girl in Springfield, Mass., applied to her teacher for leave to be absent half a day on the plea that they had company at home. The teacher referred her to the printed list of reasons that the School Committee think sufficient to justify absence, and asked her if her cause came under any of them. She naively replied that it might come under the head of "Domestic affliction."

A SPLENDID INSTRUMENT.—We saw, yesterday, at J. L. Parrish & Co's something new in the way of an organ—a French instrument called the Organ Harmonium—invented by Alphonse Rodolphe. It is a very considerable modification of the organ as we have them from the American manufactories. It is provided with sixteen stops, each of which exercises a distinct and peculiar effect upon the tone. The base stops are the Forte, Jeu Doux, (soft, sweet) Bourdon, Clarion, Bourdon, English Horn; the treble stops are Expression, Tromelo, Scotch Bagpipe, Flute, Clarionette, Fife, Hautbois, Voix Celeste, Forte, and Jeux or Full Expression. The effect of these stops in changing the tone is most surprising. For instance: from the flute to Voix Celeste with Full Expression, the tone changes from what sounds precisely like a soft flute, to the full grand harmony which we would expect from an Angel choir—what the name imports. The Key-board is movable and can be adjusted to any key, to any instrument, or to the voice of any singer. Other changes are no less surprising. The instruments are of the most perfect workmanship and of the highest finish; have taken the first medals at all the great European Expositions. The prices range from $175, to $500. Persons in want of an instrument should call and see them, for it is impossible to get a correct idea of them, except from personal inspection. J. L. Parrish & Co., are sole agents for the Pacific coast.

What I Saw of Reconstruction—Trip Through the South

[Correspondence of the New York Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, (D. C.), June 21.—My trip through the unreconstructed States has been some what long, and as the circumstances surrounding and objects for which it was undertaken opened to me most available sources of information, to far as the progress of reconstruction is concerned, I propose to present briefly the results of my observations. It will be my endeavor to present what has been already accomplished by the work done under the Military and Supplemental Acts, what hinderances and malignant influences have been developed, what obstacles present themselves, and in what manner the working of the plan might be improved. My journey began at this point took me through Virginia, North and South Carolina, Florida, through Georgia, Alabama and as far as Mobile, through Mississippi, and home again through Northern Alabama, Tennessee, and Southwest and Central Virginia, stopping at all principal points and many small villages, always meeting active Union men as well as others, occasionally going out into plantation districts, and always asking questions as well as observing all that bore upon the problem now being wrought out, I may assume to have learned something of the "situation."

To proceed with those results, it is certain that foremost is the fact that the passage of the Military Acts has had the effect of dividing the "white" South into two or more classes. It is also true, however, that this division does not promise by any means as large results as it did six weeks or a month ago. The influences which have all along been exerted from the White House prejudicial to its success, have produced to a considerable degree the object sought. Then the malcontents have the advantage of social position, and as the women of the South of any education or influence are almost unvotally the strongest devotees of the "Lost Cause," it is quite difficult to withstand the social persecution which these people so systematically put into operation. An instance in point was given me in Montgomery, Alabama. The junior member of one of the publishing firms there insisted upon hanging placed on a Republican Committee as its Secretary. The leading Republican urged him not to press the matter, as it would bring the "ladies about his ears," and he would not be able to stand it. He persisted. In a few days, however, his name was withdrawn and he himself wrote a letter denouncing the Republican movement as likely to set the races against each other. Now, there is little doubt this man is really converted, but he is not able to endure the slights and insults constantly thrown at him.

The division, then, is not by any means, as large as it would have been had Johnson friends been simply neutral. It is a fact that everywhere the leaders of the present opposition to reconstruction are from the ranks of quasi Unionism, Gov. Sharkey has greatly intensified and encouraged the "no Convention" policy, since his return to Mississippi. He, like Perry and Parsons, declares there will be a reaction in the North against Congress, and then the South must be ready to take advantage of it. Jenkins, of Georgia quietly pursues the same policy. Worth, in North Carolina, has the same purpose. In Florida, those in authority are of the same mind.

But, nevertheless, we have accomplished somewhat in the shape of a division, greater or lesser in different States. In Virginia, most of the Southern element will vote for a Convention. A small majority of the mal-contents will vote against it. The main reason is that in the Old Dominion the rebels really hope to carry the State by means of such men as can sophistically take the necessary obligations, and at the same time do so falsely so far as sentiment and purpose are concerned. In North Carolina the rebels will divide about equally on the Convention question. All of them will unite on the delegates, however. The law amiably gives them two chances—to vote against a Convention or to vote for delegates thereto. In South Carolina, Orr's "no party" will have to take the ghost of a chance. The vote of the whites in the low country will be almost a unit against a Convention. In the six mountain districts where the whites control, the Republican policy, if properly presented, will have a considerable support. In Florida, the whites will mainly go against a Convention. Georgia presents a most interesting scene. There is a fairer triangular fight there than elsewhere. Ex-rebel Governor J. E. Brown appeared in, in a month since, in a fair way to divide the entire rebel vote of the State in favor of reconstruction. The prospect for a heavy vote for his own policy, is growing less and will continue to do so. Still, his canvass is doing great good; it at any rate enables the Republicans to push on their work comparatively unopposed, as the anti-Conventionists are mostly occupied with fighting Brown. Alabama has no well defined "No Convention" movement outside of the southern portion. That a majority of the press oppose more or less strongly the voting for a Convention in Mississippi, eight-tenths of the whites outside of the more northerly counties, are bitterly opposed to the Convention. The position of a man on the question of secession at the outset of the rebellion, is but little evidence of his position now. In fact, it is true that of the original political element South, there are more genuine friends of the reconstruction among those who fought against the Union and were originally in favor of rebellion, than there is among those who were known as Union lists and opposed a recourse to arms. I know no reason why it should be so, unless the loss of their slaves has embittered the latter, while the former, taught by the stern logic of war, or were originally more in defense of the State sovereignty than the "peculiar institution."

Another and even more important result is the inauguration of the Republican movement. The aggressive, because creative policy, is that of the national party. The passage of the military Acts especially the supplemental one, aroused the Radical Unionists that for the first time they could obtain definite protection. The sword was thrown into the scale with free speech. There has been an immense work done, but there is very much more to do. The active Republicans are in nearly every case so very poor as to be unable, in justice to home duties, to give even time. But they do. The "unknown heroes" of the loyal South labor with immense zeal. They are not always wise, but their mistakes should be borne with. The great difficulty among both white and colored Unionists is their lack of political information. Both classes have alike been shut out from the means of obtaining knowledge of the modes used in the dissemination of political knowledge. Northern men canvassing among them are struck with this the first thing. The freedmen are even more apt in learning about organization than the whites. Their craft comes into play here, and in those states who lived in the cities there was a great deal of benevolent and religious organization among slavery, which formed a good school for the work on hand. I found the most valuable agencies at work from the outside were the Union Leagues, and the organizers and speakers employed, and the documents circulated by the Congressional Union Republican Committee. It is a little amusing to a Northern man to see with what avidity documents under a Congressional frank are received by a certain class of the whites, and what an amount of social importance is thereby added to that man's stature who is the constant recipient of them. The Southerners fear only power, and respect only its representatives and agents. This trait will illustrate the wisdom of letting the Congressional Committee manage the canvass in the South. It will also indicate a grave mistake made, it seems, by the leading Republicans. What the South needs now and has ever since the first six months after the surrender, is the most thorough political agitation possible in the interest of the National policy and party. When the army was charged with the duty of protection, and it became evident that a serious attempt was to be made to reconstruct, instead of only two Republican leaders going South to stump, there should have been fifty. One or more Republican Congressmen should have within the last six or seven weeks spoken in every town of any size in the South. Their presence would have hushed the growlings of the mob. As it is, a severe comment is made by our shrewder friends there.

But there is a great deal already being done in Virginia it is considered we shall have 90,000 loyal votes, provided we canvass effectually, 80,000 in North Carolina, 90,000 in Alabama, and 100,000 in Georgia—a majority in each State from 10,000 to 20,000. We have got the Republican party well under weigh in North Carolina Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, and Arkansas. In Virginia the prospect is improving rapidly for harmony of action. The Congressional Committee have put into that State a dozen active men, and are sending more daily. In South Carolina the party has just begun to peep out of its shell. The Bureau is the most effectual educator of the people. Its agents permeate the State as no other can. When there, I found the interior very restless. Every day I hear more gloomy reports. We could carry South Carolina with time, a loyal loyal militia and money. We need these all. The ignorance is so dense, the poverty is a much greater barrier, the bitter malignity of the rebels is only to be overcome by power in the hands of those who are loyal, while more time is a necessary element. All this is true, and even more so, in Mississippi. The negroes there lack entirely the support of the radical Bureau officers, as also the inestimable advantages in schools, which are being vigorously pushed in the Palmetto State. Texas is without aught but the shadow of a Republican organization, though I learn from persons who have lately left there that with Germans and negroes there is an undoubted loyal majority. Florida is in the same fix, though the influx from New England on the east coast of the peninsula is having its due effect.

Thus we have gained so far a division among the rebel whites and the organization and beginning of a Republican agitation.

What hinders the latter from making their existence as it is, for it is that Congress let the illegal State Governments established by Johnson run through one or two months of the summer of the national" among State officers as simply for the purpose of retaining their positions. The first thing to be done by Congress, if it passes a supplemental Act at the approaching session, should be to provide for the complete removal of the present organizations. The best way to accomplish this in the present circumstance is probably to direct it to be done by the district commanders. Prominent Republicans all through the South assured me that such a step would do more than any thing else to insure perfect reconstruction.

The second thing wanted is time. The Convention is to be elected at least three months too soon and if it was postponed until December it would be very much better. It, when the present Acts were put in force the Provisional State Governments and the Federal officials generally had been friendly, and a thorough canvass had been made of the South, we could have hoped to have done our work well by the 1st of September. Even with those we have had fair prospects of reconstructing successfully four or five of these ten States. But without the hindrances of Johnson interposes, it is simply impossible.

Another thing which ought to be secured, in the suggested supplementary Act, is to prevent the election of any State officers, members of Congress, etc., until Congress has accepted as well as the people ratified the Constitution.

The reason of this is obvious. It prevents complications which might readily arise, and of attempts to get official in form, submitting, yet in spirit resisting the requirements of Congress. Again, the canvass necessary is political education. Another and perhaps the most important aim is the simplifying of the questions submitted to the newly enfranchised. Knowing their want of knowledge of politics, it is to be regretted that the two questions to be decided at the first election had not been submitted at different times. It is easier to decide an ignorant man on two issues than on one. When the Constitution is submitted, no State or other officers ought to be voted for.

There is another provision to be reached, and that is the organization of a loyal militia force. Our military force is inadequate for the work of full protection. There is another reason also for the suggestion. Few persons out of the army have any idea of the large number of the present recruits who were formerly Confederate soldiers. With the rough material which usually composes the rank and file of our army, the negro stands but little chance of fair play. I heard of some of the worst outrages as perpetrated by the soldiers sent to insure their safety.

With the other changes or provisions needed, which the Attorney General's opinions have rendered necessary, and those I have suggested, we can get the Southern States back into the Union in time next year to share the Presidential canvass and election. If the attempt is made to bring them back by next winter, we shall find our work not nearly as well done as it may be, with more time to canvass and organize.

The most prominent things which struck me in the contest, as I went through the South, was on the part of the rebels.

First—A general belief that there would be a reaction in the North, that we were "on the verge of a volcano," that ere long the greed for land and the lust for power, which they term Yankee and Radical traits, would involve us in difficulties about Canada or Mexico, or both. Our "time will come then," as they phrase it. This is but one of the delusions to which they cling with tenacity. They are given over to believe a lie, and they like it. It is but one of the evidences of hatred which abound among them.

Second—The most prominent feature of their policy is to endeavor to spread a feeling of race hatred. The whole talk of the opposition journals and talkers is that the Republican movement in the South means the arraying of the native blacks against the whites for the benefit of the Yankee adventurers. The two sets of politicians—those who acquiesce and those who don't—alike unite in this wretched malignancy. The object of the first is to bring about the "white man's government" issue again, and after the State is again represented again in Congress to obtain control by the arousing and banding with old prejudices and new jealousies. The "obstructionists" are doing it for the purpose of creating disturbance, riot, and final bloody extermination of the negro. Both parties pursue their purpose with the most devilish ingenuity. A school cannot be established for freed children without being used to this end by the poorer whites. A meeting cannot be held without the same sort of strictures. There is great danger of success in it. The instinctive sagacity of the colored man sees this. They are acting very wisely, and everywhere declare that they have no enmity to gratify, only security to attain. The chief barrier to the success of this villainous design would be to proselytize exclusively among the former non slaveholding whites. They are becoming open to conviction, and an urgent reason why we should have more time for the canvass, and before a convention is elected, is what we need to reach this class hardly yet reached.

Our most urgent need is to reach the interior of these States. Along the lines of travel and in all the larger towns and cities we have great and perhaps sufficient activity. Where Northern men are found there is always a vigorous Union sentiment. This fact has awakened a great jealousy among the Southern Unionists, mainly owing to the other fact that said activity has won the confidence of the negro. It is very hard to make the latter believe in any man who has ever held or trafficked in slaves. We need newspapers. Those we have are generally poor and struggling. There are a half dozen prominent points where newspapers under the control of able Northern men ought to be established. Let me name Atlanta, Corinth, Wilmington, Charleston, Columbia, and some place in Florida, Galveston, Natchez, etc. They ought to have Northern editors—men of ability and earnestness. It is a mistake to suppose that the Southern papers that may change for gain, or because they cannot see any other thing ahead, will ever have a controlling influence. To patronize these will be to drive off those Union men who suffered and stood to the end without faltering. The South cannot be regenerated without the Yankee. Above all, Northern ideas, sagaciously, kindly but bravely taught, must be taught in journals of that region. Give reconstruction a fair impetus, and place its execution entirely in the hands of its friends, and you will open a field of labor and profit for enterprising Republican journalists and printers such as is to be found nowhere else on this continent. A year's struggle will put any paper, wisely located, firmly on its feet.

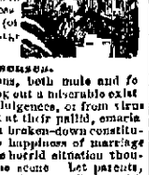
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus she fluid into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs.
